
OLYMPIAD

Mel, How ya doin sweetie?! Gosh, Can you believe we are already seniors? I can still remember typing sophomore year! Oh, I really like Jeff, he is all you said he was and then some! Mel, I'm really going to miss you. We had a lot of fun together didn't we?! Yes, Dunn will remember us for some time to come. You have to write to me in Texas. You're really going to love Raman, he's 5'10, big shoulders, mustache dark, very muscular, and he has the most beautiful face (big brown eyes, dimples, and a smile that makes me melt)! Well, I wish you all the happiness in the world, and may all your dreams come true! God Bless you always,

Love,
Suma

Mel,

How are you doing? I hope your doing good. Well this year just flew by. Can you believe it. Know what? I'm a senior and your out of school. I bet your excited. Mel your a really great friend. I want to thank you for being the friend that you are. And thanks for the advice with Jeanne. It really helped me out. Your really great. I wish you all the luck in your future. I hope you have a great summer. Maybe I'll see you a little bit.

Your really great! Love Jah Tons, Brett Lee #12

MEL, (SPARKY!)

WELL, I DON'T KNOW WHAT TO SAY, IT'S BEEN A REALLY BIZARRE YEAR. I HAD A LOT OF FUN CHEERING FOR YOU IN VOLLEYBALL & B-BALL. YOU WERE GREAT. I REALLY ENJOYED YOUR FRIENDSHIP AND COMPANIONSHIP ALL THIS YEAR. YOU ARE A VERY SPECIAL PERSON TO ME, AND I AM SORRY IF I HURT YOU IN ANY WAY. PLEASE FORGIVE ME. I WAS VERY CONFUSED AND MY FEELINGS & EMOTIONS WERE GOING HAYWIRE. I THANK YOU FOR BEING SO UNDERSTANDING AND SYMPATHETIC TO MY NEEDS. THANKS FOR ALWAYS TRYING TO CHEER ME UP OR MAKE ME FORGET MY PROBLEMS. I MIGHT NOT HAVE MADE THROUGH THIS YEAR IF IT WASN'T FOR YOU AND YOUR EVER-PRESENT SMILE.

I WILL ALWAYS REMEMBER YOU & ALL THE FUN TIMES WE HAVE HAD. (THERE HAVE BEEN QUITE A BIT!) GOOD LUCK IN LIFE, KEEP THAT GREAT PERSONALITY THAT ALWAYS WAS THERE FOR ME. LET'S KEEP IN TOUCH.

Luv Ya. Always,

(Sparky)

Styles And Smiles

With the start of the new year came many new fads and fashions as well as some of the more traditional styles. As always, the most popular jeans on campus were the original Levi 501's, old or new, black or blue, but the Strauss denims were still considered to be the most comfortable. The usually subtle tones of fall were mixed with brighter colors this year; Oly girls displayed a rainbow of colors wearing the popular Forenza over-sized sweater and the newest in neon attire. The best known name in designer clothes on campus was GUESS? Even though a pair GUESS? jeans could cost up to $70, it didn't stop the fad from being an instant hit. Washed out grey denim pants with leather trim and jean jackets with multi-pockets and snaps were just a couple of GUESS? items to become fashionable at Oly.

Individuality was stressed this year through hairstyles. Shorter hair seemed to be common, probably because there was less of it to deal with. Freshmen and sophomore girls returned to school all looking similar with the bob cut, short hair that didn't take much fixing and usually hung down over part of the face. Those students referred to as "punkers" caught everyone's attention with their own unique styles. They dared to be different by wearing mohawks, shaving their hair into checkerboard designs, or tinting their hair a different color almost every day of the week. All in all, Olympia High School's styles really blended well with all those great smiles.

Stars of '85

From seniors to freshmen, Olympia High School's stars shone bright in 1985! With style and spirit, Olympia's upperclassmen gave nearly four hundred new freshmen a glimpse of high school at its best.

With a mixture of confidence and disbelief, the new seniors began their starring reign as leaders. While the phrase, "I don't feel like a senior," was often heard, the class of 1985 settled easily into the unofficial senior lunch section and its new influential role in student government.

The class of 1986 gladly took their title of juniors and, with it, the vacant junior section of Chick Rockey Gymnasium. "We finally get to see the cheerleaders faces!" said one happy junior. Not content to only move from across the gym, juniors also moved up into varsity sports and upperclassmen classes with enthusiasm.

Sophomores shed their freshman image and found new respect from the student body in 1985. They also found greater opportunities to get involved in OHS through clubs, music groups and cheerleading.

Our freshman class began their high school career with the traditional "ice-cream tour" and lingering traces of middle school. But the class of '88 proved to have true Olympia talent, excelling in their first elections, sports teams and classes.

▲ Jeff Milton gains skills that could really benefit someday.

▶▲ Keeping in shape and looking good is very important to these girls' futures.

▶ Busy on the production line, Karen Malm, Bert Webb, and Tyler Wubbena, practice for the real thing.

Bears Looking to the Future

What does the future hold? In trying to answer this question, high school students have found themselves in new and different situations. For example, many students have taken part time jobs. By working, they are not only earning money for their futures, but are gaining valuable experience. Some students have directed their studies towards certain career goals. By taking certain classes both in and out of high school, students are learning skills that could be very helpful someday. Some students began looking after the future of others. They've done this by working in nurseries, teaching preschool, and all around caring. Students in our school have shown much interest in answering the question "what does the future hold?", and have come very close to reaching their goals.

God made the world with its towering trees, majestic mountains and restless seas, then paused and said, "It needs one more thing . . . someone to laugh and dance and sing, To walk in the woods and gather flowers, To commune with nature in quiet hours," So God created little girls with laughing eyes and bouncing curls, with joyful hearts and infectious smiles, enchanting ways and feminine wiles, and when He'd completed the task He'd begun, He was pleased and proud of the job He'd done, for the dearest joys of Heaven above can all be found in a little girls love.
All our love today and always,

a blessing from above
She's laughter, warmth, and special charm,
she's thoughtfulness and love.
A daughter brings a special joy that comes from deep inside,
And as she grows to womanhood,

ADMINISTRATORS

Dale Herron-Principal (Graduated 1956)
Since it was so long ago, it is hard for me to remember. The dances were usually "sock hops" in the gym with music by a variety of bands on 45 RPM records. After the dances you usually took your best girl cruising around Jack's Drive In in Aberdeen. I remember duck tails and crew cuts, peg pants, white buck and English Brogue shoes and narrow ½" suede belts for the boys. For the girls, I remember poodle dog and pleated skirts, sweaters and saddle shoes with bobby socks and a lot of pony tails. Rock and Roll music was big and cars with loud pipes and lowered fender skirts were popular. There was an occasional drag race that I didn't participate in. That wasn't by choice but no one wanted to drag a 1940 Pontiac whose gear shift kept coming off.

LOOK

Dave Ensberg-Vice Principal (Graduated 1952)
The big thing in clothing was white or creamy yellow cords—the dirtier the better. They would be just right if they could stand up by themselves in a corner. Girls wore saddle shoes and their status would be determined by the number of cashmere sweaters they had. Social clubs were big in school, even though the administration didn't like them. Initiation was tough, but if you made it you were "socially" acceptable. For example, Weawana and Roberta were boys' clubs and Trideckum was a girls' club. Crew cuts and flat tops were popular for guys in hair styles. Dances were more formal than now and were most often "sock hops." Taking your girl to the drive in, the ice-cream parlor, or Necker's Knob were also "hot" things to do.

BACK

Dave Ellick-Vice Principal (Graduated 1963)
I grew up in the Sacramento Valley in California where it was sunny and hot all the time. It seems to me that we spent our lives in cut off Levis and tee-shirts driving around in convertibles. Social activities revolved around sneaking into Beach Boy concerts, riding Hondas in the hills, and arguing who was better, the Beach Boys or the Beatles. A social sport for Friday and Saturday nights was always Mel's Drive-In, where you would cruise through dozens of times as you made the circuit up "K" and down "J" Streets. A "Princton" was the appropriate hair style; hair was cut flat on top, and combed back on both sides. Girls would rat their hair. Black, low cut tennis shoes or white canvas "frat" shoes with colored stripes on the back heel were popular for the boys. Drive-in movies were very big. The kids would show up an hour before dark with blankets and lawn chairs, sit on top of the cars and wait for the movie to start. McDonald's hadn't sold a million hamburgers yet, and they were selling for 19¢ a piece. If a girl was going steady with a guy she would wear his class ring on a chain and his letter sweater. Life seemed simpler then.

Can fixing cars really be that much fun, Mr. Strobl?

ACTIVITIES

Eve Scheffer, Lori Romig, and Andrea Long are prepared for a long day.

Shawni Peltola, Carla Medak, Jill Nunez, and Kelly Bert enjoy watching their Bears play football.

"Will you please help me with my Rubik's cube?" asks Tawny Blake.

Steve Larsen and Lori Anderson carry on an endless conversation.

A group of senior boys gather for the annual Mud Bowl.

DANCES

"Wow, what a movel", exclaims Sara Britton to Cameron Normoyle.

Kelli Anthony, Diane Vollendorf, and Brenden Clarke wait for the horse at the watering hole.

The dances were once again a tremendous success. To kick-off the year, the semi-formal Homecoming was a big hit with the band "The Names." Sadies came next as many cowgirls and their mates mosied on down to the barn at OHS and had a how-down the music of the "Cause." The Sweetheart dance, better known as the Tolo, came into swing in February where the girl had to grab her guy again. To welcome the spring, the seniors put on the traditional May Dance. The attire was formal; the food expensive; the men were excited: and the ladies elusive.

"Shh! you're only stuck with him until midnight," hushes Marryin' Sam.

Dave Meyers, Jill Carnevali, Carla Medak, and Randy Swilley seem to be getting a kick out of the cameraman.

"Just go in and ask her to dance," persuades Darrell Cochran to Mike Hitchman.

"Whoa, horsey!" exclaimes Barb Taller.

"Remember when we used to have fun at the dances?" reminisces Kelly Bert and Mike Cairone.

"C'mon Stacey, have a good time," exclaims Courtney Latta to Stacey Jones.

Drama

Voices in the High School

Voices in the High School is about "the joys and difficulties of being forced to grow up too fast in America." according to the creator of the play's concept, John Welsh.

Voices in the High School dealt with such topics as parental abuse, peer groups, drugs, and teenage pregnancy. The play was written by Peter Lee so that the teen actor might be able to share the troubles and joys of growing up with, other students, parents, teachers and administrators.

Voices in the High School was written by Peter Dee and it's concept developed by John Welsh. The Olympia High School drama production was directed by drama's advisor, Deborah Pattin.

Lisa Mowry and Christa Sheafe talk to each other as group members look on.

Drama Club. Along with learing about drama, Drama club was also active with many other activities. This year the drama club presented two full length plays: Voices in the High School in the fall and The Adventures of Tom Sawyer in the spring. One act plays were directed by the advanced drama students.

In February, students attended the Thespian Conference where they performed Love Rides the Rail, directed by Jakki Baldwin, Thespian Troupe president. Drama also attended the Washington Association of Theater Artists' high school festival. Drama club was directed by Thespian officers, Jakki Baldwin, President; Chad Clarkson, Vice President; Kim Krevey, secretary; and Amy Anderson, Treasurer.

The Student Government class, consisting of ASB officers, the junior and senior class presidents, and committee chairmen, met every day during sixth period. This group was involved in planning assemblies, dances, class elections, and Freshmen Orientation.

The Senate, which met during Activity periods, was composed of represenatives from each of the required classes. Its main tasks during the year were to propose improvements concerning the student body and to approve the annual budget.

The two groups worked together to serve as a link between the student body and the administration.

DECA

DECA had many responsibilities this year, one of which was the opening and running of the student store. Fundraisers included the selling of jerseys, state champ sweatshirts, balloon grams and a gift wrapping booth at Capital Mall during Christmas. Club members attended several conferences in Seattle and Ocean Shores.

German Club

Club members started the new school year off right by having a welcome party for German exchange students at Sunshine Pizza. Christmas was celebrated with a party at Frau Pfruefer's house. Members also worked hard this year by selling pretzels during activity periods. The money they raised went to the May festival in Leavenworth which they attended.

Spanish Club

Spanish club members had a busy and exciting year both in and out of class. During class, first-year students created colorful pinatas. Second year decided to make their own villages, while third year went to see the movie, El Norte. Outside of class, members attended activities with President Dave Loonam, Vice-President Molly Freshley and Secretary Brenda Kellogg. They held an international banquet, roller skated and ice skated and carolled for cans.

Honor Society

The Honor Society was an activity group for academically outstanding students. Included in their activities were a Halloween party, a trip to the Lacey Senior Citizens' Center to sing and visit with the senior citizens, and a school exchange. During the school exchange students visited other schools for the day. They found out about how other schools function and brought back new ideas to incorporate into Olympia High.

Peer Support

Peer Support was made up of students who want to help their peers. Peer Support met once a month to discuss problems that teenagers have and ways to solve them. Members volunteered their time to tutor students needing help with their studies. They also organize the freshman orientation that took place in the spring of each year at the middle schools.

Newspaper Staff

Changing the look of the OLYMPUS was the first task of the staff members. To go along with the new cream colored paper the logo and staff box were printed in light blue ink. The type of print style and margin sizes were changed. Meeting deadlines and getting the articles written was a real challenge for the new members of the staff.

Annual Staff

Annual staffer Chris Willrich has been heard to say, "The annual staff is not responsible for this book." Dispite Chris' mad disclaimer, the staff was intensely involved in the design of the annual. Over several months, staffers wrangled with pictures, layouts, articles, nemes(!), and the dreaded DEADLINES. They worked to produce a yearbook that they, and the rest of the student body, could be pleased to hold onto for a thousand years or so.

Knowledge Bowl

Can they do it again? For the past two years the Knowledge Bowl team conquered two state titles and two West Coast championships. First team members Mike Wolfson, Eric Lonborg, Jim Julius, and Tim McDonald hoped to continue this tradition. Intern Brad Piper helped coached the members this year. "He has stepped in as an assistant coach and deserves much credit," commented head coach Mr. Dave Ensberg. Mrs. Betty Shaw also assisted.

FHA

Ice skating, eating and visiting St. Peter's Hospital in costumes, were only a few of the acitivites of Future Homemakers of America. The club was designed to help students learn about the roles they will assume in society. Members attended dinners with their President Cindy England and Vice-President Shantella Lamar.

Medical Careers

Medical Careers was a Club designed for students with an interest in the medical field. Their various activities provided members with information about the options for a medical profession. The club took their yearly trip to the University of Washington, opting to take the tour of the University, instead of viewing open-heart surgery which they did last year.

Bike Club

The Bike club was basically inactive first semester because of bad weather and "an occasionally high wimpiness factor" according to Advisor Jay Elder. However, spring arrived and with it came bike clinics and rides providing, in the opinion of Mr. Elder, "pleasure so intense you can barely stand it."

FFA

The Olympia chapter of Future Farmers was an organization of students studying vocational agriculture. Their main objective was cooperation, leadership and and community service. They belonged to the state and national FFA. Their main activities were Old McDonald's Farm, showing at the Puyallup Fair, Thurston County Fair, Lakefair Parade, judging livestock in Portland and showing of judging poultry.

As the Oly Band's ranks swelled to their largest extent in all recorded history, director Wayne Timmerman oversaw some exciting times. Marching season saw drum major Dave Pedigo lead the band through performances at varsity football games, at the U. of W. Band Day, and through the playoff games right up to the Bear's triumphant encounter in the Kingdome. The season was further enhanced by the fine baton-twirling work of sophomore Tina Ogden. Meanwhile, concert season had arrived, with the Symphonic and Concert Bands performing in the Christmas, Spring and Pop Concerts. Both bands, and individuals from both, gave strong competition at the yearly music contests. The band crowned a productive year with a Friends of Music-sponsored spring trip to Washington D.C.

Jazz Ensemble

Pushing back the limits of musicians' endurance, the members of the Jazz Ensemble (or Stage Band, depending on your own beliefs) came to school at 7:00 in the morning to practice the same lively music for toprate performances around town and beyond.

Strollers:

Talented musicians all, the Strollers-more formally known as the Strolling Strings- made masterfully melodic appearances for activities and events both at Olympia the school and Olympia the community during the year.

Row One: D. Tygart, K. Malm. Row Two: C. Weaver, J. Melusky, E. Pearson, C. Clarke. Row Three: K. Sjodling, D. Fehring, M. Connor, K. Henden.

Good Days:

The heartily harmonic Good Day Singers brought their impressive vocal abilities to use performing an assortment of enjoyable songs at different gatherings and events. Each member had to face stiff competition to join and put in much hard work to get just the proper sound; the effort, of course, paid off.

Madrigals:

The Madrigals, (or "Mads" for short) take their name from multi-melodied, unaccompanied songs which were highly popular from the 15th to 18th centuries. These top-notch singers used their vocal talents on such music, creating impressive entertainment for modern audiences all year.

Chorus

Intoning their way into another productive year, these junior and senior singers practiced, polished, and performed challenging and enjoyable music from across many centuries and places. Mrs. Timmerman oversaw the large group's powerful concert appearances, special performances, and several competitions, such as the Choral Festival at the University of Puget Sound. The Chorus also joined the other music groups in the trip to Washington, D.C.

Glee

Made of girls from the freshman and sophomore classes, the Glee put their efforts into all the yearly enterprises: school concerts, local performances, and contests. They joined the Chorus at the U.P.S. Choral Festival, and highlighted their year with the spring break Washington, D.C. trip.

Orchestra

O.H.S.'s full-strength string ensemble again proved its ability with a full round of concerts and performances. The orchestra also proved to be tough competition at the inter-school contests. A successfull year was made still more exciting when the group travelled with the rest of the Music Department to "that other Washington" in the spring.

All-Northwest

Among the highest honors a high school musician can attain is to be chosen for the All Northwest music groups. These groups came to meet and practice together at the Northwest Division of the Music Educators National Conference, in Spokane in February. Congratulations are in order for the several O.H.S. students who were accepted for All Northwest.

OHS added a new varsity cheerleading squad to their staff this past year. The girls' basketball squad consisted of four girls, two sophomores and two seniors. The gals were quite successful at camp. They earned almost all excellents and superiors for their outstanding efforts. Their season was quite a busy one. All four girls were involved in other sports and school or community activities, so they were continually bustling about. Although the girls had hectic schedules, they did find time to practice and put in many long hours perfecting their routines. One of the girls wrapped up their season by saying, "It was fun and rewarding. We had a great time doing it!"

The varsity soccer/wrestling squad also had a fantastic year. The four girls learned a lot throughout the year. They started out by learning all about cheerleading at camp in Ellensberg, and did they learn fast! The girls received all high scorings for their evaluations. All the effort and time the girls spent preparing for their cheering season showed in their impressive performances. They set goals for themselves and worked hard to achieve them. The squad also learned a great deal about their sports, wrestling and soccer. Overall, the four had much to be proud about and deserved a pat on the back for their success.

Starting practice at the end of the 1983-84 school year and continuing through the summer, the girls worked about 350 hours. During summer, they participated in the Lakefair parade, the annual Bear football barbeque, freshmen orientation, and cheerleading camp at CWU. At camp the squad received one excellent and five superiors for their cheering and leadership abilities. Not only did the girls receive camp recognition but they also received letters from other schools commending their performances.

As one squad was added, the JV squad was reduced from six to four girls. This decrease in no way marred their enthusiasm. The squad practiced all summer and participated in the annual Lakefair parade as well as the Bear football barbeque.

Long hours of tedious practice were needed to perfect the many routines the dance team performed. Susan Sole, the new advisor, helped to boost spirits and kept the girls organized. She is looking forward to advising next year's team. The dance team has come a long way since it was started in 1981. Now, since the beginning of the 1984-85 season, they have improved with every performance. The girls began practicing in May of 1984 and practiced five days a week. Because more than half of the team will be returning, their experience and skills should provide a strong team for 1985-86.

SOPHOMORES: Row 1: M. Ferranti, K. Guydish, E. Haimes, V. Nesbitt, M. Zarrel. Row 2: K. Randall, B. Hulett, K. Murray, J. Williams.

Oly Ball Bear Style Excels

The '84 War proved to be no bore when the Bears made it higher than ever before. An outstanding coaching staff, combined with technique, toughness, and togetherness enabled the Bears to excel to number one in the state.

The '84 War was indeed a success when the Bears made history as the first team ever from the Black Hills League to succeed in winning the AA football state championship. According to Coach Dunn, there is no question that the Bears deserved the victory.

The 1984 varsity football team was very unique with the definite consistency of its players. To mention the outstanding players would be to mention the entire team. The Bears expressed their toughness from beginning to end with twelve wins and only one loss. The only loss was against the cross-town rival, Capital High School, who won the game 21-20. Rather than slowing the Bears down, this loss only awakened them.

Wrapping up the season, the football banquet was the scene of many awards. Winners included Mike Cairone as the most inspirational of 1984, Randy Swilley as the best blocker, Tim Winter as the offensive captain, Dave Loonam as the defensive captain, Jeff Markoff as the meat grinder, Doug Vaughn as the most improved player, and Dave Myers with the coach's award. The entire football team showed their appreciation of Coach Dunn's efforts with a gift of a bear skin rug.

The freshmen football team's hardwork, ability and tough mental attitude contributed to their success as Black Hills League Champs. Coach Johnson noted they reflected the varsity football team with their consistency and continuous dedication. According to Johnson, the team has the potential to go far next year. In fact, many of the players have a good chance of making varsity as sophomores.

Our girls' tennis team did very well under the new leadership of Coach Ken Whipple. They placed second in the Black Hills League with a 10-3 record.

This year the team started two-a-days in the summer. They practiced about four hours a day. Molly Freshley, team captain, stated that "the two-a-days were really hard," but the practice paid off. Mr. Whipple said, "My goal is to get kids to State," and that is what he did. Becky Bryden and the doubles team of Kara Keating and Dana Larson were alternates to State this year.

Coach Whipple looks forward to next year with promising performances from Rhonda Larson, Erika Olson, and Angie Hulbert. He also added that Becky Bryden will be even better next year because of all the hard work that she puts into her practicing.

The dedication of Coach Laurie Creighton and her team earned Olympia their first undefeated league record and most successful season record. This was only the second BHL championship for for girl's volleyball. Districts began on an expectant note, but the Bears bowed out on the second day.

Commented Coach Creighton, "Obviously we were disappointed with our showing at Districts . . . Outside of the Play-offs, however, it was a very successful season."

Co-Captains were Angie Cochran and Lesli Bash. Most Improved went to Emily Johnson, and Most Inspirational was given to Angie Cochran. Angie Cochran also received the Coach's Award.

Although our "Kamikasi" Bears were short on experience, they were long on talent and enthusiasm. Looking back on the season, Captain Liz Champagne commented, "Our Coach, Michelle Hiblar, really made this a special year with her support and super personality. We couldn't have made it without her."

The growing enthusiasm toward volleyball led to the addition of a C-Team. Coached by Becky Stokesbary, these girls ended the season with 7 wins, 3 losses, and three ties.

Junior Varsity

The girls' swim team started their day at six a.m. in the Tumwater Valley pool with a one thousand-yard warm up and did long sets. After school, they swam from three o'clock to five and then lifted weights and ran. What did they get for all this hard work? Coach Mark Scott believed they earned the distinction of being "the best team Olympia has ever had." This statement is evidenced by the many accomplishments of the team including coming in second in BHL relays and being the district champions.

Mary White set a new AA state record in the five hundred and broke several of her own records. In addition, Margaret Freeman, Michelle Blum, Tracy Jones, and LynnMarie Graham also competed at the State finals. In spite of all this success, Coach Scott insisted "they were just getting started," indicating a bright future for the next year's team.

Olympia Cross-Country Places Tenth

All the way to state! That was the goal finally reached by the 1984 boys cross-country team.

The season started with the Jamboree involving 10 teams. The boys took first place, while the girls received fifth. Girls continued through their season taking fifth in league and eighth in Districts. Boys went on taking first in league, second in districts, then rushed forth to take tenth in state, a proud accomplishment. Best of all, the team consisted mainly of juniors and sophmores. They are looking forward to an even better year in 1985.

The boys' varsity, led by Matt Ruhl, finished with a 8-1 record. The girls team ended their season with a 6-3 record, competing only in the varsity level. Boys' J.V. team shone through their season with a 9-0 record.

This year's teams were very close. They did things together, as friends, both within the realms of team activities and outside them. Amidon believed this accounted for the many victories acheived, both for the teams and individualy.

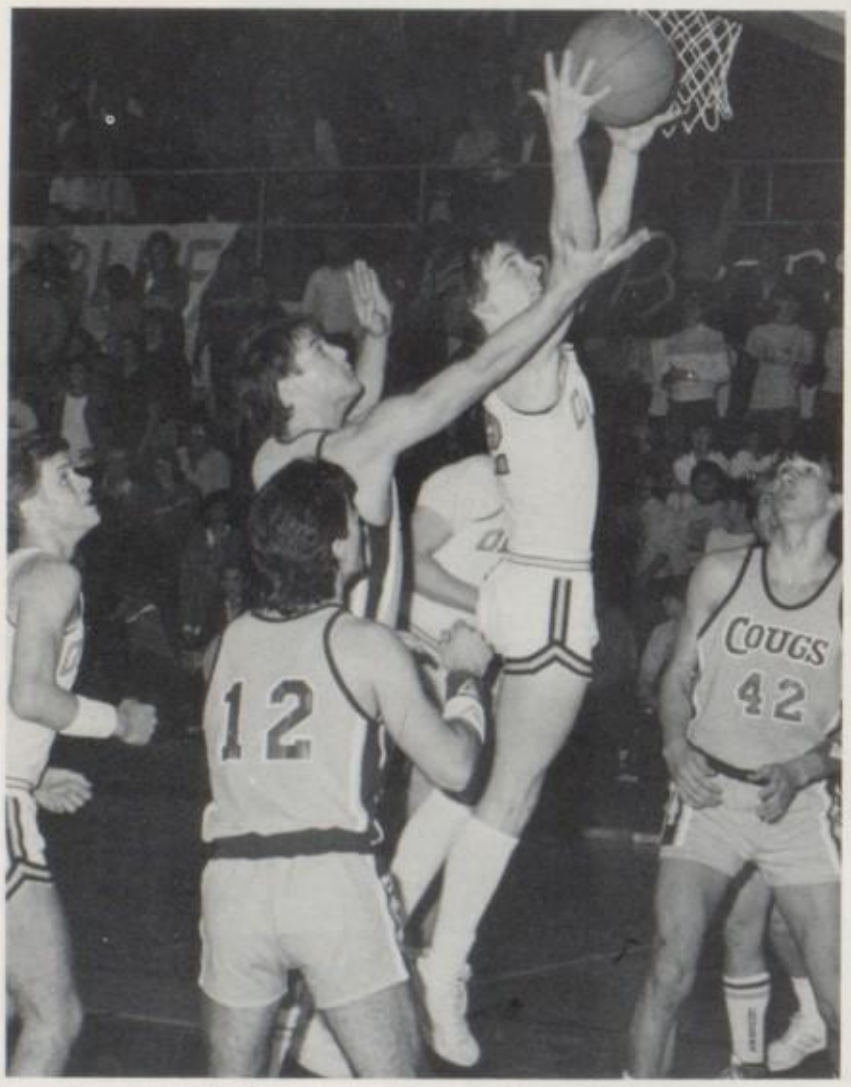
Blue Collar Bears Break Ahead

The 1984-85 Bears, a group of players balanced in skills had an extremely competitive practice schedule in which a player's starting position was never secure. The result was a team which fought for the opportunity to play and scratched and clawed for wins. The "Blue Collar Bears" led by co-captains Mark Tate and Dan Winter turned the tables on the Black Hills League moving from last place to fourth and thumping the league leaders on successive weekends.



"Wow," thinks Mark Tate as he watches Tim Malroy jump.

The girls varsity basketball team did better than anyone expected this year. With Jill Carnevali being their only returning starter, they blazed their way past Woodway, the defending state champions, for an explosive entrance into the 1984-85 season.

The team continued on to have many more impressive victories due, no doubt, to their quickness and hard work. These Bears capped off the season in second place and advanced easily to Districts.

"What more can we say? We're awesome!"

In her free time, Jill Carnevali practices levatating the ball.

Kim Ames sinks yet another free throw on her road to fame.

The 1984-85 season saw a vast improvement in the quality of competition on the junior varsity level. An enthusiastic team effort by these hard-working girls propelled them to success. According to Coach Michele Hiblar, "No one outstanding performer can be singled out as each girl had their night and played their part."

The theme for this years gymnastics team has been "personal pride and mental discipline." The first time in the history of Olympia High School and only the second time a team had been sent out of Thurston County.

Six year coach, Greg Skinner, believes this success was mainly due to two strong seniors, Heidi Palmer and Carla Medak. Also, great back-up was supplied from Stacy Jones and the rest of the team. Loosing these two seniors next year will definitely hurt, but the hard-working, talent freshmen coming up are sure to make a strong team.

Young but talented Tom Wright is a great asset to Oly's diving team.

After being defeated at the BHL relays, the boys swim team came back to capture the league title for the third year in a row with a record of 6-0. The swimmers went on to win at Southwest Washington Districts for the fifth consecutive year; and eight swimmers qualified to compete in State. The 1984-85 team was small but strong with a turnout of only 14 swimmers. Coach Mark Scott felt this was a "rebuilding year" for the team and was impressed with the swimmer's ability to take the league and district titles. At Districts, Matt Hougan broke the District record for the 100 back stroke and Coach Scott expected him to have an even faster time at State. The swim team's winning season once again proved that personal effort and hard work result in fantastic performances.

To wrap up the season Coach Isley commented that the "year proved to be difficult for some of the wrestlers. With only two seniors starting, the team did well." The team was 5-4 in league and participated in many tournaments. They wrestled in the Christmas Tournament in Mt. Vernon where they took third place. They placed fourth at Wapato and fourth at the Ed Stevens Tournament. The team members went up against a lot of tough opponents all the way to the finish. Despite the difficulty, ten wrestlers went to Districts, six to Regionals, and some to State. Coach Isley predicts much success in the future for his team.

Oly Track Leads The Pack

After last year's record turnout in track, this season's group could only benefit from all the returning talent. In addition to acquiring fresh student talent, Olympia also had three new coaches. Dan Gaffney, John Johnson, and Pat DeNeui assisted Head Coach Mick Ryan.

Returning talent to watch included Mark Ward, Will Mertena, Matt Lane, Tim Conner, Matt Ruhl, Wade Ruch, and Ron Ventar for the boys and Shelly Cooper, Megan Angier, Michelle Conner, Debbie Tygart, Kim Ames, and Lisa Terry for the girls.

VARSITY. Oly's boys' baseball team was not left out of the outstanding sports year OHS had. With 14 returning seniors plus other talented players, the coaches expected a successful season.

Because of this strong group of players, Coach Maguire expected to see many outstanding players. "The varsity team looks strong. I expect to win the BHL championship and continue on to state," stated a confident Maguire.

Mark Maxin is just "pleased as punch" to have his picture taken.

JUNIOR VARSITY. Junior Varsity Coach Bill Curtis was optimistic about his team's talent and predicted a successful season. Eight players who saw considerable action last year as freshmen returned. "We have the experience and potential to be one of the best junior varsity teams at Olympia High in several years," stated Coach Curtis.

The Olympia girls' softball team got off to a slow start this season while waiting for their new varsity coach, Al Sokaitis, to finish with his basketball committments. From day one of practice, the team's goal was to retain their BHL Champion title place first in districts, and go on to become state champs. The Bears knew that in order to achieve their goal they had to commit themselves to hard practice and perseverance at every turnout. Coach Sokaitis felt "a well-established work ethic will get this team to the top." Oly's softballers were expected to do just that with the help of ten returning varsity lettermen and their coach's wisest word, "Capice."

The price os success in Black Hills League soccer ran high, requiring both talent and experience to be a top contender. Olympia's 1985 soccer was rich in both areas, returning six senior veterans and skilled underclassmen to varsity play. "We have the deepest team in four years, freshmen through seniors, with excellent skills in all aspects of the game," commented goalie Mike Kirschner. Coach John Gallagher predicted Olympia to place in the top three teams in league play with a good shot at the Black Hills title. However, more optimistic teammates were looking towards post-season play and the new state AA title. With new coaching input from John Hitchman, the Bears J.V. team also expected a successful season.

"Youthfulness, exuberance, and inexperience" marked the 1985 version of the boys' tennis team according to Coach Ken Whipple. Only eight players returned; of them, three were upperclassmen. Due to this young team, Coach Whipple believed the players who comprised the bulk of the team were talented for their years, but because of their inexperience, this season must be considered a building year. Therefore, the team will be essential to the quality of upcoming teams, for as Whipple stressed, "The development of the freshmen and sophomores will be the future of the OHS tennis program."

Coach Tim Healy believed his young team would improve its seventh place league standing. According to Healy, the team's youthfulness was not a hindrance. "I can't believe so. This year's team was more mature than in the past which I believe was an advantage to us," reflected Healy.

Key players included Evan Parker and Mike Kloepfer, who combined their talents with returning varsity lettermen, Dave Bossio and John McCauley.

Mel,

Hi Honey Bunch? This year has been full of memories. Both good & bad. I'm glad most of our FOSTER, FOSTER & SCHALLER memories have been good, except of course Chris Whipples bad moods. I love ya lots, you've been a great friend & you're always there for me. I wish you the best in the future & I know for sure ill see ya. Congratulations on graduation.

And To All A Good Night

This rare photo was taken just before the 1984-1985 annual staff went into a twelve-week period of hibernation. Fortunately, they were able to complete the annual before then, applying to it a new and different theme—the starry sky (poetic, no?). Together they worked long hours against the odds, striving on against all the mishaps Murphy's Law could provide. Together they gave their all to a cause they desperately believed in. Together they all agreed to dwell shamelessly on what great effort they put in.

And so it went. The staff respectfully hopes you'll like the look of the book. It's from all of us to all of you—yeah, even you there, in the back row with the purple sweater—yeah, we see you! Advisor Ensberg, editors Christopher, Densmore, and Willrich ("Hope you like the cover. If not, I'm in Tanzania."), and the entire staff hope you'll cherish this annual for the next ten generations or so. Have fun lives, everyone, and goodnight.

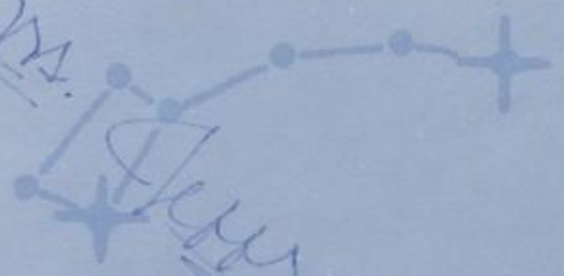
URSA MAJOR (Latin, Great Bear) the most conspicuous constellation in the northern sky; seven of its stars form the Big Dipper.



URSA MINOR (Latin: Little Bear) the northernmost constellation; seven of its stars form the Little Dipper; the most important of these stars is Polaris, the North Star, at the end of the handle.
